Q. 6 Read the following passage and answer the questions appended to it:

The international factors affecting Pakistan's fight against poverty need to be given due attention. We will be quite justified in joining the other disadvantaged countries to tell the international community that we can't have the resources needed to free a large segment of mankind of the curse of poverty unless the advanced world redeems the pledges of transfer of technology and economic aid to these poorer countries that were repeatedly made in the past. But Pakistan must approach the world with clean hands. It should demonstrate a firmer commitment to achieve the Millennium Development Goals – MDGs than it has so far exhibited.

The Government needs to appreciate the importance of these goals which simply mean, firstly, freedom from poverty, hunger, ignorance and disease. Secondly, from want and deprivation which is a basic right of all citizens.

Questions:

- (i) What do the disadvantaged or needy countries need to do, according to the writer? 02
- (ii) What are the Millennium Development Goals? 02
- (iii) Make a précis of the given passage in about one third of its original length and suggest a suitable title. 06

- Q. 6 Read the following passage and answer the questions appended to it:

Science offers the possibility of far greater well-being for the human race than has ever been known before. It offers this on certain conditions like abolition of war, even distribution of ultimate power, and limitation of the growth of population. All these are much nearer to being possible than they ever were before. In Western industrial countries, the growth of population is almost nil; the same causes will have the same effect in other countries as they become modernized. The even distribution of power, economic as well as political, has been nearly achieved in Britain, and other democratic countries are rapidly moving towards it. The prevention of War? It may seem a paradox to say that we are nearer to achieving it than ever before, but I am persuaded that it is true. I will explain why I think so.

Questions:
